Despite the club's 5 wins from 6 games and some very big individual points tallies, round 5 fantasy teams saw a big spread of results. Some teams, such as the 'Sparkling Kings' saw a very low total of 208 points whereas this week's round winner 'Dentless' amassed a total of 847 points.

The top 3 teams saw no change as did the bottom team, 'The Inadequate XI'. One of the big movers this week was Tim Boucaut's team (up 16), Christo's team 'Talk To Me Goose' (up 14) and, despite the fact that he doesn't know how to play yahtzee, Eske's team 'The Freezing Eskies' (up 12). Some big movers in the wrong direction include the 'Drew Blood XI' (down 14) and 'yehnahthatschilledasbro' (down 13).

The best individual performance this round was Saltimbanco's latest recruit Drew Clayfield who compiled a brilliant century in a show of whip-like bat speed and freakish ability. Showing up the board of selectors he piled on 207 points, which unfortunately didn't help any team as, strangely, no one decided to pick him this year. Other big contributions were made by Steve McQueen (197 points), Ben Cunners (193 points) and Keagan English (149 points). Also, a big welcome back to Chriiiiis Spencer smashing 79 runs for 137 points in the C grade in his season debut for the club.

Once again, please make sure your player's points are correct and let me know of any mistakes there may be.

Good luck to all players and managers this round and don't forget to book in to your calendars the club's Christmas Drinks at the Hackney on Saturday the 17th.
